

Handwritten text in Devanagari script on a palm leaf manuscript. The text is densely packed and covers the entire length of the leaf. There are two distinct circular holes visible, which are traditional for threading a cord to bind multiple leaves together. The script is a form of Sanskrit or an early Hindi dialect, written in a cursive style typical of historical manuscripts.

Handwritten text in Telugu script on a palm leaf manuscript. The text is densely packed and covers the entire surface of the leaf. It appears to be a continuous passage, possibly a religious or philosophical text, written in a traditional style. The script is clear and legible, with some variations in the size and shape of the characters, characteristic of handwritten Telugu. The leaf itself is aged and shows some wear, with a slightly irregular edge and a warm, brownish tone.
